Highlights

We summarized the state of the art regarding interactive augmented reality apps in education

Providing collaborative and multi-user apps fosters students engagement

Current apps offer limited support for collaboration in the classroom

Interactive apps are used to raise engagement and help learning difficult concepts

Usage of AR apps leads to a slight improvement in students' results